13 February 2019

Your Excellency,

Subject: Call for applications of TDR Postgraduate scholarship in implementation research for the Academic Year 2019/2020

We are pleased to inform you that The Faculty of Medicine, Public Health and Nursing, Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM), Yogyakarta, Indonesia invites suitably qualified candidates to apply for a full scholarship for the 2019/2020 academic year. This is supported by Tropical Disease Research (TDR), and available in the International Master Programme in Public Health, with a focus on implementation research.

The training will be focused on courses relevant to a career in implementation research on infectious diseases of poverty (including neglected tropical diseases, malaria and tuberculosis). The goal of this scheme is to enhance postgraduate training capacity and boost the number of researchers in low and middle income countries and their contribution to improved health programme performance.

TDR will offer a limited number of scholarships for the 2019/2020 academic year for the International Master Programme in Public Health, leading to the MPH degree (2 years duration). The programme is taught in English and scheduled to start in September 2019.

1. Complete information for eligibility and application process can be available at:
<http://graduate.fk.ugm.ac.id/2019/02/01/call-for-applications-tdr-postgraduate-scholarship-in-implementation-research-academic-year-20192020/>
2. Details for the TDR post graduate support scheme is available at:

TDR Postgraduate Scholarship in Implementation Research Academic Year 2019/2020

Deadline for application: 24 March 2019

DESCRIPTION

The Faculty of Medicine, Public Health and Nursing, Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM), Yogyakarta, Indonesia invites suitably qualified candidates to apply for a TDR Postgraduate Scholarship available in the International Master Programme in Public Health, with a focus on Implementation Research for the 2019-2020 academic year.

The scheme is supported by TDR, the Special Programme for Research and Training in Tropical Diseases, co-sponsored by UNICEF, UNDP, the World Bank, and WHO (hosted at WHO in Geneva, Switzerland), and provides a full scholarship (<http://www.who.int/tdr/capacity/strengthening/postgraduate/en/>). Only applicants from low- and middle-income countries of WHO South-East Asia and Western Pacific regions are eligible.

The training will be focused on courses relevant to a career in implementation research on infectious diseases of poverty, including neglected tropical diseases, malaria and tuberculosis. Implementation research is a growing field that supports the identification of health system bottlenecks and approaches to address them and is particularly useful in low- and middle- income countries where many health interventions do not reach those who need them the most. The goal of this scheme is to enhance postgraduate training capacity and boost the number of researchers in low- and middle- income countries.

Further information on implementation research is available from: <http://adphealth.org/irtoolkit/>

A limited number of scholarships will be offered for the 2019/2020 academic year for the International Master Programme in Public Health, leading to a MPH degree (2 years duration). The programme is taught in English and scheduled to start in September 2019.
