In your capacity as Ambassador of one of the above-mentioned countries, you are in the best position to share the information with potential participants. These may be, for instance, officers of a ministry, including the ministry of foreign affairs, young professionals working for the private sector or a non-governmental organisation or excellent postgraduate students. Other eligibility requirements are detailed on the above-mentioned website of the MEIG Programme (www.meig.ch). Selection is based on application.

The MEIG Programme is of course also open to candidates not requiring scholarships. We would appreciate if the information about the MEIG Programme could also be circulated among other interested institutions, for instance, the best universities in your country that would be interested in establishing links with the University of Geneva.

The next edition of the programme (academic year 2023-2024) will begin in September 2023. In that respect, we need to receive the applications for the MEIG and for the scholarships of potential candidates no later than 15 November 2022.

Please find attached our flyer, the application form and the scholarship form for the next edition.

I sincerely thank you in advance for your support and remain available for any further information you may need.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Prof. Christine Kaddous
Founding Director of the MEIG Programme
